

As a licensed amateur radio operator, I am concerned about the implementation of BPL technology. I believe that this technology will interfere with ham radio operations, including emergency communications. Also, as a public safety dispatcher, I am concerned with interference to the public service bands. It is my belief that the FCC is here to protect radio transmissions in these bands, and hope you do so.